DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-40 are allowed over the prior art of record.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: As to claim 1, the primary reasons for allowance is the inclusion of the limitations of a device for evaluating a fluid inducer having an inducer valve operable to open in response to a load, the device comprising a fluid conduit for providing a pressurized fluid and for pressurizing the inducer; sensors for measuring both the pressure in the fluid conduit and the load applied to an actuator on the fluid inducer that determines the load in response to the sensed pressure. As to claim 7, the primary reasons for allowance is the inclusion of the limitations of an apparatus for evaluating a fluid inducer, the fluid inducer having an inducer valve to open in response to a load, the apparatus comprising a pressurizing means for pressurizing the fluid inducer with a fluid; means for determining a fluid integrity (i.e. leak-tightness) of the fluid inducer in response to sensing the pressure of the pressurized fluid; and means for determining a load response of the fluid inducer in response to a load being exerted upon the fluid inducer. As to claim 24, the primary reasons for allowance is the inclusion of the limitations of the method steps of evaluating a fluid inducer having a fluid inducer valve operable to open in response to a load, the method comprising the steps of pressurizing the fluid inducer with a fluid, determining the fluid integrity (i.e. if a leak is present) of the fluid inducer in response to sensing the pressure of the fluid; and determining a load response of the fluid inducer in response to a load being exerted upon the fluid inducer. These limitations were not reasonably found in the prior art of record, the closest references only describing the fluid inducers themselves with pressure sensors, without evaluation of the fluid integrity or load responses.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hinds teaches a typical fluid inducer structure; Balke et al. teach the fluid integrity testing of valves ; Hoffmann et al., Patten and Hayes all teach the testing of a valve having a pressure sensor; Imano teaches the testing of a valve in combination with a load sensor; and Hassenflug teaches a fluid leak detection system and shut-off valve.
